2026/7 001: Website Refurbishment Complete

I am pleased to announce the planned refurbishment of our website is complete, but as you would expect at this early stage information is still to be loaded onto the site.

The situation will improve as the 2026/7 season gets underway. I suggest you should have a look at our new timeline, which is packed with little known facts about Ormskirk.

Our first special event proved to be a great success as our expert outlined the work of the stonemason. The article recording the evening will be appearing on the website shortly.

The first of our conventional evening lectures will get underway on the 5th of October at 7-30pm, when Keith Hick will describe the triumph of engineering which is The Panama Canal

Please remember the annual subscription is due; hence an early arrival is recommended.

I hope to see you all on the 5th of October

Best wishes

Pam Nanson
